FRESHER'S EVE

Fresher's Eve – All the World's a Stage was conducted on the 6th of August, 2025, organized by the Students' Council. The first-year students brought Shakespeare's timeless works to life through thirteen captivating plays, including A Midsummer Night's Dream, Macbeth, The Tempest, Romeo and Juliet, Julius Caesar, A Comedy of Errors, Much Ado About Nothing, Hamlet, The Merchant of Venice, As You Like It, Othello, King Lear,

The plays were followed by the Wearable Art Show, where students showcased hand painted and hand-crafted costumes, headgear, and Objets d'art inspired by their plays. Each creation was displayed in a themed ramp walk, blending artistry, performance, and dramatic flair.

YRC INAUGURAL CEREMONY

The Youth Red Cross Inauguration and Orientation Program of Justice Basheer Ahmed Sayeed College for Women was held on 22nd August 2025 at 11:00 AM in the College Auditorium. The event began with a prayer and the YRC song, followed by a welcome address.

Chief Guest Mr. Pulavar R. Manikam, District Secretary of the Indian Red Cross Society, Chengalpattu, delivered the Inaugural Address, stressing the roles and responsibilities of YRC volunteers, the value of humanitarian service, and the importance of student involvement in social welfare.

He also spoke on drug addiction, urging awareness and preventive measures among youth. The program featured the Badge Distribution Ceremony, symbolising volunteers' commitment to YRC ideals.

P. G. STUDIES AND RESEARCH IN HOME SCIENCE

NATIONAL HANDLOOM DAY

The celebration of National Handloom Day aimed to honor the legacy of India's rich handloom tradition and to create awareness about the cultural, economic, and sustainable value of handwoven textiles. It sought to encourage appreciation for indigenous weaves, promote traditional craftsmanship, and inspire the younger generation to preserve and innovate within the handloom sector.

The event also highlighted the role of handlooms in sustainable fashion and eco-friendly practices, fostering a sense of pride and responsibility towards supporting local artisans and their timeless. The Department of PG Studies and Research In Home Science (Textile Science & Fashion Design) celebrated National Handloom Day on 7th August 2025 with the theme "Loom to Legacy."

The event highlighted the richness and cultural heritage of Indian handlooms through various creative displays and activities. A vibrant photo booth, embroidery display corner, and exhibits of different types of weaves were arranged, showcasing the artistry and diversity of traditional textiles. A saree draping on the mannequin added to the aesthetic appeal of the exhibition.

As part of the celebration, competitions such as Poster Making, Best out of Waste (with Fabric), and Hand Embroidery were conducted. The winners were awarded prizes based on their creativity, relevance to the theme, and overall presentation.

P.G STUDIES & RESEARCH IN HOME SCIENCE

NUTRI CLUB

In commemoration of World Breastfeeding Week 2025, the Nutri Club of the Department of P.G. Studies and Research in Home Science organized an E-Poster Making Competition on 2nd August 2025. The event was held on the theme “Prioritizing Breastfeeding – Create Sustainable Support System.” With great enthusiasm, participants actively took part in the competition, showcasing their remarkable creativity, artistic talent, and innovative ideas to spread awareness about the importance of breastfeeding.

INAUGURATION OF THE MATRIX CLUB & COMMEMORATION OF PI APPROXIMATION DAY

The Department of Mathematics organized the inauguration of the Matrix Club and the commemoration of Pi Approximation Day on 4th August 2025 at 9:30 a.m. in the Library Convention Hall. The program was compered by Ms. Halima, Joint Secretary of the club. The event began with a prayer by Afrin Al Majedha, followed by its translation by Sabeera.

Ms. Afrah Yumn, President of the Matrix Club, welcomed the gathering and introduced the chief guest, Mrs. Asfa Zahara, Quality Assurance Manager at Tata Consultancy Services, Chennai. Mrs. Zahara, an alumna of JBAS College for Women and the University of Madras, has extensive experience in IT project testing and management, both in India and the UK.

In her inaugural address on “Essentials for Innovation and Technology”, Mrs. Zahara highlighted the role of mathematics in algorithms, data structures, artificial intelligence, graphics, game development, data analytics, actuarial science, and IT careers.

The event also celebrated the Pi Approximation Day with a poster presentation on “Women Mathematicians”, in which students from all three years participated. Prizes were awarded by the chief guest.

The session concluded with the presentation of a memento to Mrs. Zahara by Dr. Reehana Parveen, followed by a vote of thanks from Ms. Kifaya Safrin, Secretary of the Matrix Club, and the National Anthem.

QUANTUM CLUB INAUGURATION CEREMONY

The Department of Physics organized the Quantum Club investiture ceremony for 2025–2026 on 21st August 2025 at the Library Convention Hall. The event began with the recitation of the Holy Quran by Ms. Lubaina (II Year) and was compered by Ms. Amreen Sadhiq (III Year). The welcome address was delivered by Ms. Ramya (III Year), President of the club, followed by the introduction of the chief guest, Mrs. Sarojadevi Palani, Deputy General Manager, Cholamandalam Investment & Finance Company Ltd.

In her address, Mrs. Sarojadevi Palani highlighted the significance of Artificial Intelligence and Data Science. She explained AI as machines that think and solve problems intelligently, with data as its foundation. She stressed the role of statistics, mathematics, and domain knowledge in data science, citing real-world applications like accident analysis and fraud detection. She also mentioned tools such as Python, TensorFlow, BigML, and Tableau, and discussed the intersection of AI and Physics as a transformative field.

Mrs. Palani was honoured with a memento by Dr. Mercy Rajasekar, Controller of Examinations. Badges were distributed to the office bearers of the Quantum Club 2025–2026. The Vote of Thanks was proposed by Ms. Gayatri (II Year), Vice President, and the ceremony concluded with the National Anthem.

PHYSICAL SCIENCES ASSOCIATION PROGRAMME

The Departments of Mathematics, Physics, and Chemistry jointly organized the Physical Sciences Association Programme for the academic year 2025–2026 on 5th August 2025 at the Golden Jubilee Seminar Hall. The programme began at 9:00 a.m. with prayer and translation by students of Mathematics, followed by a welcome address by Mrs. Fathima Azher, Head of the Department of Mathematics. The inaugural address was delivered by Dr. Indra Rajasingh, Adjunct Professor of Mathematics, Saveetha School of Engineering, on “The Role of Physical Sciences in Modern Technology.”

Dr. Indra highlighted how mathematics, physics, and chemistry form the pillars of modern technology, citing examples such as Google Maps, telecommunication systems, optical fibres, nano oxygen, 3D printing, and hydraulic jacks. She emphasized the interdisciplinary nature of physical sciences in shaping innovation. The session concluded with a vote of thanks by Dr. Reehana Parveen and the National Anthem.

The second session commenced at 10:45 a.m. with Amrin (III Year, Physics) as MC. The chief guest was Dr. Moina Mohamed, Dean and Head of Commerce, with Dr. Kavitha Dhanaraj, Head of Psychology, as special guest. A debate competition was held on the topic “Is the decline in interest in basic science a threat to national development?” Students presented compelling arguments both for and against the motion.

DEPARTMENT OF ZOOLOGY

ZOION CLUB INAUGURATION

P.G. and Research Department of Zoology inaugurated the Zoion Club on August 20, 2025, at the Golden Jubilee Seminar Hall. The event featured a keynote address by Dr. Bitopalan Malakar, Scientist B, National Centre for Sustainable Coastal Management, on “Underwater Wonders: The Hidden World of Coral Reefs.”

This was followed by insightful talks from Mr. M. Abdul Rahman, Secretary, and Mr. S. Meerasa, Founder and Managing Trustee of the Mangrove Foundation of India, on “Reviving Roots: The Role of Communities in Mangrove Ecosystem Restoration.”

The program concluded with an interactive open quiz session, where winners received exciting prizes, marking a lively and successful beginning to the club’s activities.

CENTRAL LIBRARY

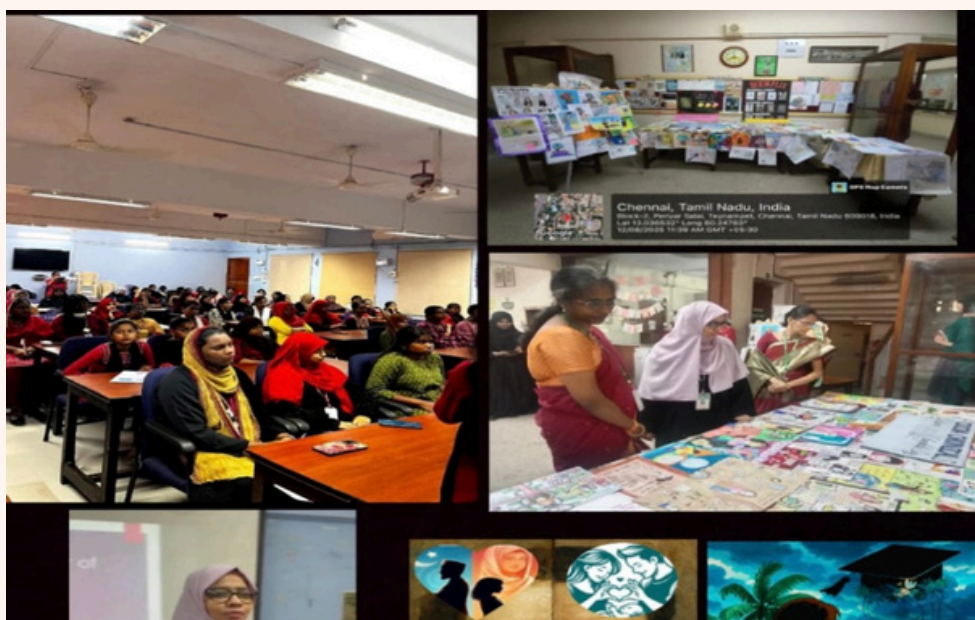

(FN&AN)

In commemoration of National Librarian's Day on 12th August 2025, the Central Library organized a lecture on the topic "How to write a book review" by Mrs. Syeda Amatul Fattah S, Assistant Professor, Department of English, JBAS College for Women. The lecture aimed to help participants understand how to write a book review that explains what a book is about, conveys their personal view, and encourages the habit of reading regularly.

The event also featured:

- Displaying Posters from the Malala Day poster-making competition.
- Displaying Photographs from the World Chocolate Day photography contest.
- A total of 15 students (both FN & AN) who participated in the Hidden Chapters book review competition, along with the library volunteers, did on-the-spot book reviews.
- The Official launch of the book PIDIVATHAM, authored by Mrs. Sulthal Hasina Barakath M, III BSc Political Science, JBAS College for Women.
- A PowerPoint presentation on Dr. S.R. Ranganathan, known as the Father of the Indian library system, whose birthday is observed as National Librarian's Day, delivered by Ms. Ummul Farhana M, Library Secretary (FN session).

A total of 108 participants from both FN & AN attended the lecture session. The event took place in the Library Convention Hall from 11:30 am to 2 pm.

BOTANY ASSOCIATION – HERBAL HARMONY CLUB & BOTANICAL ENTREPRENEURIAL STALLS

The Department of Botany organized the Botany Association 2025 – Herbal Harmony Club for the academic year 2025–2026 on 11th August 2025 from 9:30 a.m. to 12:00 p.m. at the Golden Jubilee Seminar Hall. The program began with verses from the Holy Quran by Mohsina Sultana (III B.Sc. PB&PB) and translation by Sajina Sharmin (II B.Sc. PB&PB). Dr. Shahira Banu D.A., Vice Principal (F.N), Associate Professor and Head of the Department, delivered the welcome address, honoured the Guest of Honour with a plant sapling and memento, and distributed badges to the new committee members of the Herbal Harmony Club (Students Welfare, Research, and Extra-Curricular Welfare Committees).

The Botanical Entrepreneurial Stalls were inaugurated by Dr. Amthul Azeez, Principal & Correspondent of Justice Basheer Ahmed Sayeed College for Women. The keynote address was delivered by Mrs. Sanjeeta Krishna Kumar on “The Botanical Entrepreneur: Turning Plants into Profits with Purpose.” She shared her entrepreneurial journey, highlighted plant-based business opportunities, and motivated students to start small-scale initiatives. The interactive session proved to be highly inspiring and informative for Botany and Allied students.

INAUGURATION OF ALCHEMY CLUB – CHEMISTRY DEPARTMENT

The Alchemy Club was inaugurated on 13th August 2025 with a welcome address by Dr. Gulson Bi, Head of the Department of Chemistry. The event highlighted alchemy as both a philosophy and a science, emphasizing the transformation of matter and the significance of nature's principles. Secretaries Aishu Fathima A (III year) and Safreen Safa (II year) were introduced on the occasion. The chief guest, Ms. Rakhi Bhagavath, Technical Manager at CUBE, IIT Madras Research Park, delivered a talk on the “chemical footprint,” addressing its impact on food, health, and the environment. She discussed key issues such as the dangers of additives and microplastics, sustainable practices through the 3Rs (Reduce, Reuse, Recycle), and the principles of green chemistry promoting less toxic, biodegradable, and efficient products. The event also recognized Geetha (III B.Sc. Chemistry) as the winner of the Alchemy and Department of Chemistry logo designing contest.

DEPARTMENT OF MICROBIOLOGY

MICROECLECTIC'25 (AN)

The Department of Microbiology at Justice Basheer Ahmed Sayeed College for Women (Autonomous), conducted its Association Inauguration, “MICROECLECTIC 2025” on 18th August, 2025 in the Golden Jubilee Seminar Hall. The Chief Guest of the event was Ms. Meenanarmadha. M, Senior Manager, Aggregate reporting, Pfizer India.

The program began with the prayer by Ms. Sherien Fathima from II B.Sc Microbiology followed by the welcome address by Ms. Faiza Naaz from II M.Sc Applied Microbiology. The department secretary, Ms. Nowrin from III B.Sc Microbiology delivered the annual report of the academic year 2024-2025. The Vice principal, Dr. Firdouse Jahan, welcomed the chief guest with a box of dry fruits.

The inaugural address was delivered by our esteemed Chief Guest, Ms. Meenanarmadha M., on the theme “Overview of Pharmacovigilance and Career Opportunities for Microbiologists in the Pharmaceutical Industry.”

In her address, she elaborated on the diverse career prospects available for microbiologists, highlighting key roles such as Clinical Research Associate, Drug Safety Auditor, Data Manager, Regulatory Affairs Specialist, Medical Writer, and Clinical Study Coordinator within the domain of clinical research. She also outlined the requisite educational qualifications for these professional pathways.

Furthermore, she emphasized the expanding career avenues for microbiologists in the pharmaceutical sector, including opportunities as Medical Communication Specialists, Contract Research Organization (CRO) professionals, Scientific Journal Contributors, Freelancers, and Pharmaceutical Advertising Consultants.

Ms. Meenanarmadha provided an insightful overview of the drug development and dispatch process, which broadly comprises three stages: the Discovery Phase, Clinical Research, and Post-Marketing Surveillance. She particularly underscored the significance of the post-marketing phase, during which drugs are introduced into the market, necessitating the recruitment of professionals for data entry, as well as the critical role of medical writers in documenting safety profiles. She also touched upon the issue of drug resistance and underscored the importance of pharmacovigilance in ensuring patient safety and therapeutic efficacy.

In addition, she systematically delineated the stages and timelines of drug development while presenting a comprehensive overview of pharmacovigilance processes, including case receipt, case triage, case processing, medical review, and regulatory submission. She further shared insights into various specialized courses in pharmacovigilance, encouraging students to enhance their competencies and explore career opportunities within the industry. Importantly, she highlighted the growing role of artificial intelligence in pharmacovigilance and urged students to integrate technological skills with scientific expertise in order to remain competitive in the evolving pharmaceutical landscape.

After the inaugural address, a badge distribution ceremony was held. The office bearers of the department were Nowrin Femina. A (Department Secretary), Nasira Tabassum (Assistant Department Secretary). The office bearers of the students majlis include Aaisha.R (President of Student Majlis), Fayrose Parveen. M (CWS Secretary), Aseela M.S (Livewire Secretary), Malini. J (Enviro Club Representative), Reshma. A (CWS Coordinator), Afrin Banu.R (CRA Coordinator), Jayapriya.B (Placement Representative), Kaviya (EDC Coordinator), Nazira Fathima (Photography Team). The five outstanding students of the department (Ms. Harnisree.T of II-B.Sc Microbiology, Ms. Akshaya.S and Ms. Mohsina Asma.U of III-B.Sc Microbiology, Ms. Thasleem.I of I-M.Sc Applied Microbiology and Ms. Malini Devi.C of II-M.Sc Applied Microbiology) were also felicitated with trophies for their excellent performance in academics and other activities in the year 2024-25.

The Head of the Department, Dr. Summera Rafiq presented the chief guest with a memento. Ms. Seventhika of I M.Sc Applied Microbiology delivered the vote of thanks. The program concluded with the national anthem.

DEPARTMENT OF TOURISM AND TRAVEL

MANAGEMENT

TOURISTRY 2025

As part of the Inauguration of the Association – Touristry 2025, the Department of Tourism and Travel Management of Justice Basheer Ahmed Sayeed College for Women (Autonomous), Chennai, organized creative competitions to encourage student participation and showcase their talents. The events were conducted on Monday, 18th August 2025 at 1:00 p.m. in Room No. 223.

Two exciting competitions were organized under the theme “Tourism & Travel – Explore, Experience, Enjoy”: Logo Designing Competition and Slogan Writing Competition. The competitions were open to all Undergraduate students of Tourism & Travel Management. The events witnessed enthusiastic participation, with students contributing imaginative and thoughtful entries that highlighted their creativity and passion for tourism.

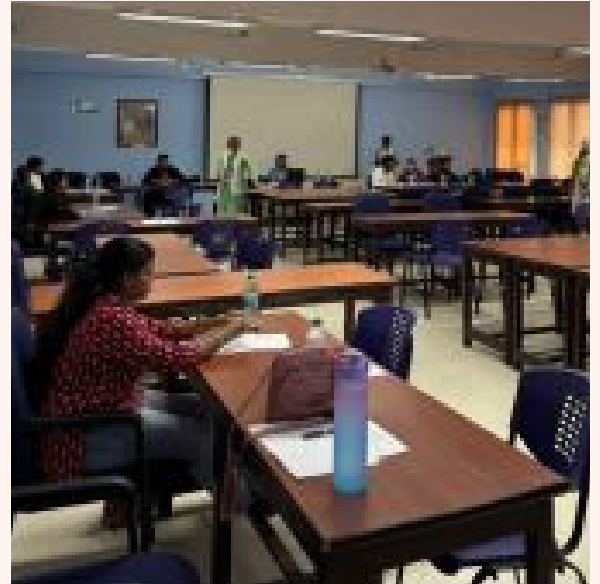

The winners of both competitions were announced and later felicitated with certificates during the Association Inauguration of Touristry 2025, in the presence of the Chief Guest and faculty members.

The competitions not only served as a platform for students to express their creative skills but also enhanced their involvement in the activities of the Tourism Club. The events were successfully conducted with active student participation, adding vibrancy and enthusiasm to the inauguration of the association.

During the Department Association Touristry 2025, a Certificate Distribution Ceremony was conducted, where the Chief Guest awarded certificates to the winners of the competitions.

CAREER GUIDANCE AND PLACEMENT CENTRE (CGPC)

CAMPUS JOB DRIVE (EN&AN)

The CGPC, in collaboration with Barclays, conducted the campus recruitment drive, providing students with valuable opportunities. It was held on 22/08/2025 at Library Convention Hall from 10:00 a.m.

The drive created a meaningful platform for students to engage with companies, explore diverse roles, and gain insights into professional career pathways.

A total of eight companies TVS, Belstar, Altrust, Work Freaks, HDB, Innov, Quess Corp, I Process participated in the drive.

There was robust participation from students across all academic departments and both the morning and evening shifts.

With the opportunity to attend interviews, participants gained valuable professional experience and confidence. This engagement ultimately led to several students being shortlisted for subsequent interview rounds. The job drive marked a successful beginning to this year's placement activities, achieving its objective of connecting students with recruiters and giving them practical exposure to the recruitment process.

DEPARTMENT OF BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION (AN).
COLONIST CLUB INAUGURATION

The inauguration ceremony of the Colonist Club was held with great enthusiasm and a sense of purpose at Justice Basheer Ahmed Sayeed College for Women in the Golden Jubilee Seminar Hall on 26 August, 2025.

The programme commenced with a soulful and serene prayer by Ms. Iffath Fathima, invoking blessings for the success of the Colonist Club and the growth of its members. The prayer set a calm and graceful tone for the day's proceedings.

A warm and cordial Welcome Address was delivered by Ms. Fauziya, who extended greetings to the Chief Guest, dignitaries, esteemed faculty, and enthusiastic students. She also expressed heartfelt appreciation to the college management for its unwavering support in promoting student-led initiatives such as the Colonist Club.

The Annual Report of the Colonist Club was presented by Ms. Faliha Begum, offering an insightful overview of the club's vision, past accomplishments, and forthcoming initiatives.

The Salutory Address was delivered by Ms. Aishwarya, who highlighted the critical role of innovation, business acumen, and leadership development in empowering the next generation of women leaders. She expressed gratitude to the faculty advisors and club members for their relentless dedication in establishing the Colonist Club as a vibrant hub of opportunity and inspiration.

The Inaugural Address, was delivered by Dr. D. T. Roshini, Founder of AMM Business School, Chennai. Dr. Roshini began by commending the efforts of Justice Basheer Ahmed Sayeed College for Women in initiating impactful student platforms such as the Colonist Club. She lauded the college's commitment to empowering young women through quality education and skill development.

In her inspirational speech, Dr. Roshini emphasized the transformative power of entrepreneurship in driving both social and economic development. She shared personal insights from her journey as a founder, stressing the importance of perseverance, creativity, risk-taking, and financial literacy. Encouraging students to cultivate resilience and innovation, she urged them to view challenges as opportunities for growth.

Dr. Roshini also underscored the values of teamwork, ethics, and social responsibility, reminding students that true leadership stems from service and a commitment to the community. Her address was a powerful blend of motivation and practical wisdom, leaving the audience inspired and eager to engage with the opportunities provided by the Colonist Club.

Following the address, the Distribution of Badges ceremony was conducted, symbolizing the official recognition and responsibility entrusted to the newly appointed office bearers of the Colonist Club. The badges served as a token of leadership, commitment, and trust.

A sincere and gracious Vote of Thanks was proposed by Ms. Zuha Kauser, who expressed her heartfelt gratitude to the Chief Guest, Principal, faculty members, and students for their presence and support. She acknowledged the collective efforts that contributed to the success of the inaugural function. The inauguration ceremony concluded with the rendition of the National Anthem.

THE LAST DAYS OF SUMMER

We met in the last days of summer, when the air was soft,
and promises felt real.
I carried the weight of “us” alone,
but still, I believed.

Now summer closes again,
and with it, the friendship
one-sided,
draining,
finally set free.
I’m lighter for it.
I’m glad it’s gone.

But another ending came quietly,
the dream I held for years,
to study what I loved.

Slipped away,
like sand through my hands.

Now I live in someone else’s dream,
walking paths I never chose.

I tell myself it will be better, not better than what I dreamed for,
but better than the ache of wanting.

The last days of summer teach me some endings feel like relief, others,
like a shadow that stays.

The Last Toffee of Summer

The evening sun melts slow, like the last toffee in my pocket
sticky in its wrapper, its sweetness waiting for one final chance.

We run barefoot down the dusty lane,
chalk lines bending under hopscotch feet.
Pockets heavy with marbles, hands stained with the colors of cheap toffee wrappers
we swore never to throw away.

The air smells of guavas and warm earth.
The neighbor's radio plays a song
we've heard so many times
it feels stitched into the sky.

But shadows grow longer,
and soon the school bell will call us back.
Monsoon clouds will hide the swings, and the cricket bat will sleep
in the corner of the veranda.

I know summers don't last forever.
I learned that quietly,
watching friends drift with the seasons.

So I place the toffee on my tongue, let it turn slow and golden until it disappears,
just like the day,
just like the summer.

Summer's Fading Light

The sun's warm touch on skin so fair,
a gentle whisper of a love that's rare.

The day grows shorter, the night grows cool,
a bittersweet reminder of summer's final rule.

The laughter echoes of memories so bright,
a fading ember of a love that's lost its light.

The stars appear in a midnight sky,
a celestial showcase of summer's final sight.

The leaves begin their subtle change,
a whispered promise of a new range.

The air is filled with a melancholy hue,
a nostalgic longing for moments anew.

Yet in the twilight, there's a peaceful sight,
a serene acceptance of the passing light.

For in the end, it's not the length of days,
but the depth of moments that makes life's ways.

The Last Days Of Summer

Days slip through my hands,
Like countless grains in the sands.
Memories start to fade as seasons turn,
Muttering goodbyes in frequent burns.
The skies spread like ocean blues,
Dreams wrapped in endless hues.
The empty spaces where words try,
Like the warmth in July's skies.
Flowers bloom with painted sprays,
Hide the clouds in linen greys,
Of times long gone
And times to come,
In mischief and wonder,
And songs once sung.
Of the shimmering gleam at noon,
From the sunlight that streams too soon,
The laughter echoes in empty rooms,
As people wander in lovely gloom.
As the wind sways the overgrown grass,
And the leaves whisper as strangers pass.
The dew runs from the stem's path
In the morning's early wrath.
As life prepares its next course,
Like a flowing river from its source,
And slowly the sun grows weak,
While autumn's murmurs softly peek.
The sun exhales a quiet sigh,
While hearts recall the days gone by.

The Last Warm Wind

Every single day I wonder why this scorching heat feels so irritating.
It's the sun's duty
to brighten the earth's surface.

So why does doing good to others
sometimes make us sad?
Why do we end up being seen as bad for doing something kind?

Life teaches us many lessons.
School teaches us many more.
But why do our own people teach us betrayal
and wound our kindness?

Though summer breaks sweet adolescence, why do they feel so precious when all we wanted
was to grow up so fast?

Here I am, writing this poem to erase the emptiness and the lonely feeling growing around my life.

Me and my warm wind are left behind
in my last teenage year of nineteen.

So let us not make ourselves too busy,
too tired.
Let's rise one more time
and make a new memory
when the next warm wind blows.
